WHAT DOES "AFTER HOURS" MEAN?

It means: Not only night life, but life after work is done, and work may end at 5:00 a.m. as well as 5:00 p.m. Not only the Clubs, Taverns, and Dances, but whatever goes day or night, After Hours is simply after the daily grind. If it ends at 10:00 a.m., we are there—We are there if the grind ends at 10:00 p.m.

THE JAZZ SCENE IN NEWARK/

The Jazz Scene has really been jumping this first few weeks of July. The Jazz Vespers which featured Miss Lu Elliott was really out of sight, because Lu's husband, Horace Sims broke things up with a couple of great songs. The guest was pianist. Stash O. Loughlin whom I consider to be one of the greatest Newark has produced in a long time. Singer Billie Lee and Ruth Shackel were also on the scene. It was really a great show. . . Then came Wednesday, Professor Aaron Bell of Essex County College presented a salute to Duke Ellington, which featured such Ellington quotes as, Home Boys, Sam Woodyard, Buddy Terry and the Great Jimmy Anderson. Other ex-Ellington's stars as Ray Nance, Ray Copeland, Matthew Gee, Eddie Bert and Ceil Payne were on hand and played their butts off. I really enjoyed every moment of it and told Dean Geo. Jackson that I hope the College does some other things of its kind. This Sunday Harold Osley, one of today's top Tenor Star will be presented at 5:00 p.m. at the Memorial West Presbyterian Church. Come out and keep Jazz alive in Newark - Jazz Vespers.

NEWARK, N.J. — New things come and new things go. . . Newark is in for a change and I can see that Black folks might pick up some of the benefits. The threats, ranting and eight raving days are over, the Black voters have become more and more sure of his and her strength in today's political world. People tried to play games on the Black voters by trading off so called candidates in the name of the past, but nothing worked. The fifty odd candidates didn't put a dent in the Black voters thinking because the selection only added three new names to the political scope, Donald Tucker, Jessie L. Allen and Reverend Ralph Grant. Though Reverend Grant didn't win, he made one hell of a showing. We had to credit Reverend Grant's style and personality along with the Kenneth A. Gibson steam rollers. Jessie L. Allen, an organizer, whose councilman now is not to be taken lightly. The plans and ideas within his brain trust, are sound, and help yourself methods for the people of the Central Ward. . . Note: They are talking their four years to help build for the little people and they say, for the people only.
